

FRIDAY, JULY 12, 1872.
STATE NEWS.

North Carolina boasts 17 newspapers and periodicals.

A tomato that weighs 6 lbs. has been presented to the Wake County Argus.

Hon. Alex. McClure, of Pennsylvania, will speak at Salem, July 20th.

The prisoners in the Charlotte jail are growing religious.

Large ball and party at Kittrell's on the 25th and 26th insts.

The young men of Raleigh have organized a Greeley Reading Society.

C. M. T. McCauley, Esq., is to be the next Senator from Union and Anson counties.

Dr. A. L. Jackson, of Lenoire, has a big smash that weighs just 4 pounds, and is still growing.

Remember, colored men, that in 1858, Dockery voted to expel every free negro from the State.—Wadesboro Argus.

The prospects for a large yield of fruits and other crops have not been equalled in North Carolina for twenty years.

Judge Merrimon will address the people at Gold Hill, Rowan county, on the 20th of July, and at Salisbury on the 22d.

Remember, colored men, that Dockery was in favor of petitioning Congress to continue the existence of slavery five years after the surrender.—Wadesboro Argus.

Tessers, R. Darwell & Son, of the Charlotte Female Institute, are going to leave Charlotte at an early day and take up their abode in Raleigh.

The Raleigh News says: News from this District is more cheering every day, and it is now considered by "Rings," that the Rogers majority will reach 1,500.

The lease of the North Carolina R. R. to the Richmond & Danville R. R. was confirmed by the stockholders, at their meeting, held last week.

The Wadesboro Argus says: The Radicalism of Anson county have succeeded in nominating a ticket—all white—not a single colored man to be found on it anywhere.

The next term of Davidson College will begin Sept. 29. For catalogues and other information, apply to or address J. L. Blake, Chairman of the Faculty, Davidson College, Mecklenburg county.

The Goldsboro Messenger says: There is to be a grand Conservative mass meeting in Goldsboro, on Tuesday, July 20th. Prominent speakers have been invited to address the people on that occasion.

The Raleigh Sentinel says: The negro, Young Ferrell, shot a day or two since by a guard at the county jail, for attempting to escape. He is now dead but some hopes are now entertained of his recovery.

The following couplet from a tombstone in an old English churchyard might not inapplicable be placed on a political grave in North Carolina.

"Here lies the body of W. W. Who never more will trouble you, trouble you."

It is reported and believed by many households in the Pennsylvania Central is preparing to build a railroad from the water station, one mile south of Joyner's in this county, to some point near the coast.—Wilson Messenger.

On last Friday, July 5th, a rather curious birth of triplets occurred at Cape Hatteras, in this State. A woman by the name of Austin gave birth to a girl on Friday, alive and well, and on the following Sunday, two other girls were born. The first of this second pair was dead, but the two others, the first and the last, are alive and well.—Newbern Times.

We regret to learn that the crops in Wayne and Johnston counties are being seriously damaged by the late wet weather. The grass has gotten ahead of the labor and efforts to get the crops in, and it proves almost futile. The peach crop will prove almost an entire failure, although the prospect had been good—the peaches have been spoiled by the wet weather.—Raleigh News.

The Goldsboro Messenger says: Below we append the dimensions intended for the principal buildings in course of erection for the Farmers and Mechanics approaching fair.

The General Exhibition Hall, 64 x 216 feet. Its capacity, 6,000 persons. The Machinery Hall, 64 x 100 feet. It will be provided with all necessary pulleys and engines for the convenience of exhibitors, 32 x 100 feet. The Grand Stand, 32 x 100 feet, will accommodate 2,000 persons. The largest of the several ovens, 15 x 52 feet.

DISASTROUS EFFORTS TO CARRY THE NORTH CAROLINA ELECTION.—A Washington telegram to the New York Journal of Commerce, of July 10th, contains the following:

The Grant Republicans are making extraordinary efforts to carry the North Carolina election. Notwithstanding the liberal contributions from here, they cry out day to day for more money and speakers. Secretary Boutwell leaves for that State on Friday, and Secretary Delano follows quickly after.

Ex-Senator Morgan says that millions of dollars will be forwarded if necessary.

On Friday, 5th inst., at 3 o'clock a. m., a fire was discovered burning from the store of the Land and Lumber Company, on Water street. It raged with great violence and the building, with its entire contents, was consumed. The fire had made such progress, when the fire company arrived, that it was impossible to arrest it. The store and other buildings of S. Weiss, adjoining, were also consumed. It was with great difficulty that the fire was extinguished from extending to the opposite side of the street. The store of Mr. Weiss was undergoing improvement, and there were no goods in it. The loss of the Land and Lumber Company was about $20,000, on which there was an insurance of $30,000. The loss of Mr. Weiss was about $10,000, on which there was an insurance of $5,000.—Wilmington City.

The Raleigh Sentinel says: The State Temperance Convention meets in this city on the 6th prox. instead of the 3d, as the Raleigh News had announced. All of the railroads of the State have consented to pass delegates for one fare.

The Goldsboro Record says: The tobacco crop generally presents a handsome appearance, and a large reward will be reaped the coming season. We counted on one stock 18 large leaves, which is a general average everywhere, with few exceptions.

The Weldon News says: Crops along the line of the R. & G. Railroad are said to be in splendid condition with a fine prospect for a large yield. With a good prospect politically and good crops we need fear nothing, but rush on to peace and prosperity.

The Raleigh News says: Senators Stockton, of New Jersey, and Tipton, of Nevada, Gov. Walker, of Virginia, Hon. Sam'l Cary, of Ohio, Col. Hinton, of Norfolk, and Specley, of Virginia, are expected, and probably Carl Schurz, will speak in this city on Tuesday next.

The Newbern Republic & Courier says: At Fort Mifflin, on the 23d inst., the lightning struck a line of prisoners at work on the said track and knocked down eight, killing one instantly and severely injuring several others. The lightning was about six inches from the ground. The man killed was William R. Livingston, formerly of Company C, 4th Infantry.

At O. R. R.—At the regular annual meeting of the Stockholders of this road held in this city yesterday, the following gentlemen were elected a Board of Directors for the ensuing year:

Col. A. Johnston, J. A. Young, R. M. Oates, M. L. Wriston and K. M. Myers, of Charlotte, and M. A. White and C. A. Carlton, of Fredrick.

At subsequent meeting of the Board, Col. Wm. Johnston was elected President.—Charlotte Observer.

The Mundane Saturn.

Mr. Munster spoke of our President as a Saturn surrounded by "Rings."

The World thus specifies:

THE ROLL OF GIANTS' HONEST SUPPORTERS.

The administration organs and the advocates of General Grant are claiming that they have the support of the honest portion of the people, and that the corrupt politicians are isolated. The following are a few of the many honest supporters of Mr. Grant:

Ulysses L., which we give as the commencement of the roll of Grant's virtuous friends.

The Monopolist Rings everywhere.

The Great Railroad Rings.

The Great Railroad Rings.

The Southern Union Rings.

The Office-holders Ring.

These embrace a few of the selfish supporters of Grant's reelection, who are drawn to that side by the prospect of success they can plunder the people and fill their pockets better and more successfully than with any other power for President.

With such an array the less that Grant organs say about rings on the other side the better for themselves.

CHAPPAQUA, July 13.

The assembly of the Democratic Committee and others on the farm of Hon. Horace Greeley to day was merely a social gathering or picnic. Greeley, however, can be seriously affected all peculiarities. A bonfire dinner was served at 1 o'clock, after which he freely admitted that he was not a Democrat.

He said it was a social gathering, having no other purpose than to give pleasure; that he was not a Democrat, and he wished they were not. He described his sojourn at Chappaqua for the last 20 years, and said that in spite of what the public at large might think of his farming operations, he was not a Democrat, and he wished they were not.

He was his present property, brought at the request of his wife, and he meant to live and die on it. Ex-Senator Guion, Judge Reagan, of Texas, and other guests, made speeches, praising the election of Greeley.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, July 13.

Messrs. Boutwell, Jay Cooke, Geo. H. D. Cook and H. C. Babcock, had a conference to-day about the new loan.

The following is published: The Treasury yesterday paid to Col. John T. Pickett, formerly of the Confederate army, seventy-five thousand dollars for data from the rebel archives against Sherman and the Southern States Commission. This sum was paid by special order of Secretary Boutwell, upon the recommendation of Messrs. Adams & Fessenden.

ALEXANDRIA, July 12.

An affray occurred here yesterday between G. H. Butler, U. S. Consul General, and John Leigh, his Secretary, on one part, and General Loring, Reynolds and Major Campbell, ex-Confederate officers in Khedive's service, on the other part. Shots were exchanged and great excitement and there are various accounts of its origin. Butler's plan of the justification of the Khedive's action against the officers made a premeditated attempt to assassinate him. This, others indignantly deny, and assert that Butler was the aggressor.

The Cincinnati Platform.

Adopted as the Platform by the National Democratic Party in Convention Assembled at Baltimore on the 10th July.

The following are the resolutions in full: We, the Liberal Republicans of the United States, in national convention, assembled at Cincinnati, proclaim the following principles as essential to a just government:

First.—We recognize the equality of all men before the law, and hold that the rights of the people to meet on just terms with the people to meet on just terms, of whatever nationality, race, color, or persuasion, religious or political.

Second.—We pledge ourselves to maintain the union of these States, emancipation and enfranchisement, and to oppose any reopening of the questions of secession and rebellion, and amendments to the Constitution.

Third.—We demand the immediate and absolute removal of all disabilities imposed on account of rebellion, which was finally subdued seven years ago, believing that universal amnesty will result in the complete pacification of all sections of the country.

Fourth.—Local self-government, with impartial suffrage, will guard the rights of all citizens more securely than any central government. The public welfare requires the supremacy of the civil over the military authority, and the freedom of person under the protection of the habeas corpus.

Fifth.—The individual the largest liberty consistent with public order, for the States self-government, and for the nation a return to the methods of peace and order.

Sixth.—We demand a system of Federal taxation which shall not necessarily interfere with the industry of the people, and which shall provide the means necessary to pay the expenses of the General Government, economically administered, pensions, and the interest on the public debt.

Seventh.—The public credit must be carefully maintained, and we denounce repudiation in every form and guise.

Eighth.—A speedy remedy to special payments is demanded, and by the highest considerations of commercial morality and honest government.

Ninth.—We remember with gratitude the heroism and sacrifices of the soldiers and sailors of the Republic, and no act of ours shall ever detract from their justly earned fame the full reward of their patriotism.

Tenth.—We are opposed to all further grants of lands to railroads or other corporations. The public domain should be held in reserve for the people.

Eleventh.—We hold that it is the duty of the Government in its intercourse with foreign nations, to cultivate the friendship of all peoples by treating all on an equal terms, regarding it alike dishonorable either to demand what is not right or to submit to what is wrong.

Twelfth.—The promotion and success of these vital principles, and the support of the candidates nominated by this convention, we invite and cordially welcome the aid of every patriotic citizen without regard to previous political affiliation.

From the Columbia Phoenix.

The following dialogue is supposed to have taken place last Summer at General Grant's residence in New York.

"The First Gun."

Money will be freely used by the vultures now in power, with the hope of fastening themselves upon the people for another year of plunder.—Not true, said Grant, which time they will reap a usurious interest and collect the principal invested; for they have, as has been recently affirmed by the New York Tribune, a large and influential party in this State, that there are two years more of good stealing in North Carolina.

Senator Pool has already received $25,000 for campaign purposes; and as Secretary Boutwell is to take part in the canvass, he will no doubt supply his party with all the money they need, and so the money will be used for the purpose of otherwise appropriated. This honorable Senator will consider no work too mean to effect his triumph. He has had printed and circulated all over North Carolina, a free of postage, under his own frank, a most scurrilous campaign document, containing the basest misrepresentations and falsehoods.

Already are efforts being made to excite the popular mind of the North by Pool and those of his stamp, by resurrecting the cry of "Grant's rebellion." They are now circulating a Ku Klux sensation out of a few questions propounded to Judge Settle, at Yankeeville, and the clerics of the friends of Grant, who are now presenting a proved ignominious failure. But not a word do we hear from these conveniently horror-stricken rascals when the Lowrey and the other friends of Grant are playing in the broad glare of day and in cold blood, when these loyal Ku Klux claimant depredations upon the surrounding country for the purpose of securing the election of Grant, and the other friends of Grant, who are now presenting a proved ignominious failure.
